About the Artwork: Pretty Bird Woman is the birth name given to my grandmother who embodies the values of our Blackfeet (Amsskaapipiikuni) people. The Pretty Bird Woman is a tribute to the pillars in our lives that have a special place in our hearts and a reminder to treasure those who bring us happiness. They are the Northern Star to our life and the guidance when we run astray. They are the foundation to our values, reminding us of who we are and who we want to be. They are warriors in our lives that will go to war for our wellbeing. They embrace exploration and encourage the pursuit of dreams. So I encourage you to take this as a reminder to love and cherish the Pretty Bird Women in your life. The artwork features Pretty Bird Woman in her traditional gown under the moonlight.
